(Editorial on Page 20)
Alton members of a study committee laid after a meeting Friday that they plan to begin publishing efforts to merge the United Way organizations in Alton and the Quad-Cities.

Multipier—one

An assessment multiplying factor of 1.0 for computing 1975 taxes in the collected this week was received Friday by the office of County Clerk Evelyn Bowles at Edwardsville.

The 1.0 assessment was described as "good news" that will permit the clerk's office to complete tax rate extensions much earlier than it would if a multiplying factor either more or less than the 1.0 would permit.

New workshop called necessary

The Planning Committee of Oath, Inc. (Organization for Advancement of The Handicapped) remains convinced of the need for an additional sheltered workshop in the Quad-Cities, members said Friday.

The Madison County Mental Health Board voted 5-2 last week against providing funding previously placed in escrow for the group.

An Oath survey has prompted the Planning Committee to conclude that many potential clients exist.

"Some are now clients in a program. Many are not, and others have disabilities not qualifying for existing programs," the committee relates.

seme believe merger is unlikely, it had been suggested that publicity could be destructive to the smaller organization, he said, and could damage its pending fund drive.

Others indicated they see merger as probable and wish to go public through two United Way board meetings this week.

2 reports list pro and con on merger

Following is a condensed subcommittee report on United Way merger.

The Alton area group, River Bend United Way, will discuss the topic at a board of directors meeting scheduled for Thursday.

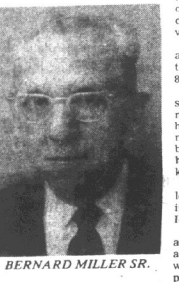

A special meeting of the Tri-Cities Area United Way board has been called for 3 p.m. tomorrow. Authorization will be sought for in-depth exploration of merger details.

Progress in probe of 2 murders

New evidence has led Granite City police investigators to believe that a middle-aged man and a woman may have been among those involved in the brutal murders of Richard and Anna Kube in their home March 4.

Police say they are closely guarding evidence they have gathered.

Chief of Detectives William Condis said in an interview with the Press-Record, "We have compiled a tremendous amount of physical and investigative evidence during these months of investigation."

Officers also are attempting to identify another man seen in the rear yard of the Kube home about 1 p.m. to 1:15 p.m. on the day of the murder.

Fail to block sewer project at State Park

Petition signatures proved insufficient today to block sanitary sewers in Area Two (State Park Place) of the Madison County Board's sewer installation program.

Less than half of land owners opposed sewers, a tally showed during today's County Board meeting. Action on sewer decisions related to all three service areas is scheduled for today.

Emphasis on personal tax

A new division within the office of Superintendent of Assessments James Barton will begin operation this week in a plan designed to increase personal property tax payments in the Quad-Cities and throughout the county, Barton announced Friday.

$100,000 damage in fire at truck stop

A massive fire which threatened to explode tanks of diesel fuel destroyed much of the Gateway Midstate Supply Truck Stop on Route 202 north of Interstate 70 and south of Madison Saturday night.

Firemen from nine fire departments fought the blaze for six hours before it was brought under control.

Firefighting efforts were hampered by no fire hydrants nearby, so water had to be brought in by pumpers and tank trucks in relays, filling at the nearest available hydrants.

The big tanker of the Long Lake Volunteer Department and a pumper from the Mitchell Volunteer Fire Department were among the units used to battle the fire.

Madison volunteer firemen also responded to the fire.

Much of the water had to be used to keep heat and flames away from large diesel fuel tanks behind the building which were successfully saved from exploding.

The fire broke out about 7:30 p.m. Saturday and was believed to have started in the kitchen area of the restaurant. The cause is not known.

Several customers and employees fled the building when the fire started. There were no injuries.

The restaurant, sleeping quarters and office of the building were gutted. Damage was estimated at over $100,000.

The fuel pumps were spared damage and the owner, Ray Pratt, said he hoped to resume refueling of trucks today. The truck serves 300 to 350 trucks each day.

Other fire departments assisting in the firefighting included National City State Park, French Village, O'Fallon, Fairmont City and Caseyville.

Boy's injuries probed

A 7-year-old boy who may have been severely beaten in his home in the 2200 block of State Street was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 1:15 p.m. Sunday and later was transferred to Cardinal Glennon Hospital, St. Louis.

Officials suspect some of his injuries were two or three days old. He was reported as having bruises from his head to his feet, two blackened eyes, scratches on his face and was running a fever.

Authorities are attempting to determine whether the injuries were suffered in a series of accidental falls or whether he was beaten repeatedly.

Steel shipments to rise, future shortages forecast

Predicting that domestic steel shipments next year will rise to 106 million tons, a level that would produce tight supply conditions, a leading steel executive last week urged Congress to act now to head off potential scarcities over the long term.

Frederick G. Jaicks, chairman of Inland Steel Co. and past chairman of the American Iron and Steel Institute (AISI), told Joint Economic Committee hearings on capital formation that not much can be done to increase domestic supply capabilities in the short run, since steel facility expansions require two to five years to complete.

He emphasized that "the sooner attention is directed to the capital adequacy issue, the sooner the nation can be assured of steel supply availability."

"If profitability and capital availability do not improve," Jaicks said, "I think the economic consequences are obvious: scarcities of many steel products and, hence, of products made from steel; increased steel imports at premium prices; fewer new jobs created; fewer existing jobs maintained; and slower economic growth."

Forecasting domestic steel shipments this year of 98 million tons — a level that points to tight supply conditions for flat-rolled products later in the year — Jaicks said current projections for 1977 place steel shipments close to the peak levels of 111.4 million tons in 1973 and 109.5 million tons in 1974.

This year's surge in steel demand has been led by automotive and consumer-oriented industries.

In 1977, the biggest gains are expected to come from producer durables industries, construction and from steel service centers, he said.

"Next year should see a general tightening over the whole range of steel products reminiscent of 1973-1974," Jaicks predicted.

He noted that market studies by Inland indicate the following increases in steel demand: consumer markets, 30.8 million tons in 1976, increasing two per cent to 31.6 million tons; construction, up 20 per cent to 17.9 million tons; steel service centers, up 18 per cent to 19 million tons; and all other categories, up 13 per cent to 14.7 million tons.

Jaicks told the committee that in spite of the energy shortage and competition from other materials, the consensus forecast of a 2.5 per cent annual growth rate in domestic steel demand still is valid.

An AISI study, since confirmed by a study for the government's Council on Wage and Price Stability, indicates that the steel industry will have to install an additional 30 million tons of raw steel capacity by 1983 at a cost between now and then of $5 billion annually.

Even if the steel industry were to continue to generate cash flow at the record 1974 level of $3.4 billion and were to add new long-term debt at a rate of $60 million a year, it still would fall about $1 billion short of its annual average capital needs, according to Jaicks.

He noted that while Inland was successful recently in raising equity funds, equity financing will play a relatively small role in steel industry expansion over the near term.

Jaicks offered the following approaches to stimulating capital formation:

— Permit market forces to operate freely. Government controls, especially price controls, interfere with the market, distort market relationships and reduce economic growth, he said.

— Permit faster capital recovery under tax laws through shorter depreciation periods for production facilities and first-year writeoff of pollution abatement equipment.

— Maintain or increase and permanently extend the investment tax credit.

Another step in reducing the steel industry "capital gap," Mr. Jaicks said, would be a reduction of the burden of environmental standards that are cosmetic or stem from questionable criteria.

He also called for trade policy that provides safeguards against excessive steel imports.

Jaicks said other governments tend to maintain employment in their steel sectors during the low end of the business cycle by increasing participation in U.S. markets at prices reflecting less than full costs of production.

Soup, soap, salvation

Soup, soap and salvation have been the guiding principles of the Salvation Army since its founding. Captain Michael Tompkins, corps officer, told the Madison-Venice Rotary Club at its meeting last week in the Madison Recreation Center.

The Army was described by the captain as a spiritually-motivated organization to help take care of human needs and "help a person get on his feet."

The Army serves through day care, foster home care, camping services for all ages, spiritual guidance, evangelism, community centers, disaster and emergency services, men's social service institutions, alcoholic rehabilitation, employment assistance, senior citizen and youth programs.

"The people who make up the Army have dedicated their hearts to God and in consequence of that dedication extend their hands of mercy to needs of mankind," Capt. Tompkins related.

Rotarian Wayne Scannell reported that the installation of officers will be held at Charlie's Restaurant on Wednesday, June 30, beginning with a social hour at 6 p.m. and dinner at 7 p.m., followed by the help-along and entertainment.

Cost of the affair is $15 per couple and reservations are to be made at next week's meeting. An invitation will be extended to the GC Rotary Club. On a motion by Rotarian John Blasigone, seconded by W. F. "Mick" Strange, the club entered into a cooperative summer softball program for M-Youth with the YMCA and the Madison County Housing Authority.

Do you know when the first Indianapolis 500-mile auto race was run? It all started in 1911... It's been run every year since then except for the war years of 1917-18 and 1945-46.

Did you know that the famous Indianapolis 500-mile Memorial Day race was not always a 500-mile event? Back in 1916, five years after the "500" was started, the president of the Indianapolis Speedway cut the distance to 300 miles because he felt a 500-mile race was too long to hold spectator interest!

Did you know that the idea for using rear-view mirrors on cars came about because of automobile racing? In the early days of auto racing, there were two people in each car — the driver and a mechanic. The mechanic served as a sort of "co-pilot," telling the driver if anything was coming up behind him...

But in the 1911 Indianapolis 500-mile race, Ray Harroun wanted to lighten his race car and drive alone... How would he know what was behind him? He conceived the idea of the rear-view mirror, and is generally credited with being the first to use one. And over the years, many of our other auto improvements have come from auto racing.

Illinois development body to affiliate with Growth group

Plans for affiliation of the former Illinois Metro East Industrial Corporation with the St. Louis Regional Commerce and Growth Association were disclosed Friday.

Carl E. Mathias, president of the industrial development group, commented to members of Illinois Metro East that for more than 12 years ago to encourage industrial development in the area.

For the first eight or nine years it was completely a volunteer organization with a minimal dues structure. These volunteers developed many studies and maps and put forth great energy to enhance the well-being of the area.

About four years ago it was decided that if we were going to be completely effective and realize the objectives of the organization, it would be necessary that we secure a paid staff.

Our dues structure was increased to a minimum of $125 but many firms contributed considerable more than that believing that the organization was worthwhile and could accomplish the goals all of us felt desirable.

We developed a budget of $10,000 with a minimum budget of $3,000. During the subsequent three years, we had an executive director, secretary and office and felt that the program adopted by the board would be such that it would encourage additional financial support and financial support.

It was the feeling of many members that the organization was achieving an identity for the area and certainly we were assisting a number of prospects interested in this area.

As time went on, we were unsuccessful in attracting the additional financial support to an extent that we could carry out our plans and make it a viable and indispensable organization.

The board of directors considered possible solutions and felt that if the major portion of our time had to be spent on financial problems, it would detract from our real objectives to such an extent that we would be better off discontinuing our operations.

When that conclusion was reached we considered all possible alternatives, which included abolishing the organization, continuing it on a volunteer basis, establishing a working relationship with the St. Louis Regional Commerce and Growth Association.

We had already experienced the volunteer organization approach and felt we could not accomplish our main objectives in this manner. We explored a working arrangement with SMCRA and discussed the affiliation arrangement with RCGA.

It was decided we should enter into the affiliation agreement with RCGA. As president of Illinois Metro East, I will sign this agreement and forward it to RCGA for their action. They have verbally indicated they are interested and will approve the agreement.

If this takes place as indicated, all members of IME will be members of RCGA in St. Louis with full benefits. On the anniversary date of dues, members will be billed by RCGA and can decide at that time whether they wish to continue membership.

Mathias said, "RCGA has given us every assurance that they will do all possible to assist in the economic development of the area. They will establish and office on the SIUE campus and one of their staff members will be assigned to the area for all assistance possible."

An advisory board of IME will be retained, with one member of that board being a non-voting member of the board of RCGA. It was the feeling of the Illinois board that this arrangement was in the best interest of the area.

When IME was formulated we felt at that time a regional approach to industrial and economic development was needed and are still of that same belief.

Since sufficient funds were not available to continue as a separate entity, we felt the only other organization supporting the same regional beliefs was RCGA, and elected to give them an opportunity to perform these tasks in a manner similar to that which IME attempted during its existence.

Today's meeting of the board is the last regular meeting before the beginning of the next fiscal year, July 1. Historically, pay adjustments have been made as of July 1, subject to availability of funds.

According to the resolution approved by the board, the acting president of SIUE at Edwardsville, the president of the SIU at Carbondale, and the general secretary of the SIU system are authorized to implement pay adjustments for fiscal 76-77 for employees in their respective units, and authorization for expenditures for operations is extended until the complete internal budget for the next fiscal year, based upon the appropriation bill, is ultimately enacted into law, as approved by the board.

Park IDs issued Tuesday at rink

The Granite City Park District will issue identification cards from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. Tuesday at Wilson Park rink.

The cards, costing 75 cents per person, enable park district residents to take part in many programs without cost and in some, including swimming, at reduced rates.

Those applying for a card must reside within the park district boundaries and produce proof of residency, such as a receipted utility bill, at the time of application. Each card has the bearer's photograph affixed.

Renewals for park tennis courts now requires the person applying to show a park ID.

Hartford man dies in crash

Frank C. Moore, 85, Hartford, was killed when his car and the auto of Ronnie G. Marler, 1810 August St., Apt. 1, collided on Route 3 in Hartford Thursday.

Marler's wife, Christine, 18, and his sister, Vickie Marler, 13, of 208 Briarwood Drive, who were passengers, escaped injury in the accident.

According to witnesses, Moore's auto was crossing the highway and had just pulled into the northbound lanes when it was struck on the left front by Marler's auto.

One of the cars also struck a stopped car driven by Robert R. McCauley, Alton, waiting to turn onto Route 3.

Fr. Wojcik new director of Assumption High

Father Gene R. Wojcik, who was recently appointed executive director of Assumption High School, assumed the duties of his position this month. One of several candidates recommended by the Search Committee which was responsible for seeking applicants for that position, Father Wojcik was appointed by the Most Reverend Albert R. Zerkowicz, bishop of Belleville.

Father Wojcik assumes the position with personal knowledge of the Assumption community as well as of the locality. He was on the AIS faculty for three years and served as chairman of the Religion Department for two of those years. Prior to coming to Assumption, he taught at Grebeul Preparatory High School in Indianapolis for three years.

Father Wojcik's educational background includes a Bachelor of Arts degree from the College of St. Thomas in St. Paul, Minn., and a Master of Divinity from the Catholic Seminary of Indianapolis, Ind. in Indiana.

Additional work was done at St. John's Seminary in Little Rock, Ark., the College of St. Catherine in St. Paul, and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. He is currently continuing graduate studies in education at St. Louis University.

As executive director, Father Wojcik will work within the framework of the Team Administration which had been established at the time of the consolidation of Assumption and St. Teresa Academy two years ago. His own philosophy, as well as that of the school's, is based upon the document, "To Teach As Jesus Did." Thus, under his leadership, Assumption will continue to take into consideration the human worth and dignity of each student, school officials said.

Father Wojcik explained that he will try to maintain the present Assumption atmosphere in which students can grow intellectually, build moral and social awareness, and develop their spiritual life, and in which the faculty will continue to demonstrate its high level of concern and dedication towards the students and their parents. He said he hopes that Assumption will be able to satisfactorily serve the needs of the local community and bring to it the message of Christ and the Church.

This summer, the new executive director is touring the parishes of the East St. Louis Diocese. This is an initial effort of his general plan to be available as much as possible to all present and potential members of the Assumption community. Father Wojcik has already met with the AHS Parents' Club and will continue to call upon them for their continued support of Assumption High School.

Industrial expansion in state urged by Howlett

Michael J. Howlett, Democratic Governor-elect for Illinois, will encourage Illinois plants to expand their facilities here instead of elsewhere, he said Thursday night.

Howlett addressed the 401 Club, a group of Chicago-based executive managers of International Harvester Co. facilities at a dinner in the Equitable Building, Chicago. "International Harvester is a great Illinois enterprise," said Howlett. "Sales last year were $1.5 billion. That's more than half of what Illinois state government spends every year."

International Harvester doubled its sales volume in the last seven years. But the business of Illinois government has been growing faster than you have.

International Harvester has markets in 168 countries and sells more than $2 billion of its products outside the United States.

"But it is based in Illinois. Seven of its 42 major plants are in Illinois. Nearly all its leadership lives in Illinois."

"In developing countries, demand is growing for farm machinery and equipment. Illinois wants International Harvester to expand its existing Illinois plants and build new ones here."

"Lately Illinois has been losing industry to other states and countries. We must develop a positive program to overcome the competition."

"Economic growth is the best way to avoid an increase in the tax rate. More and bigger plants and businesses, more jobs for our people, mean a bigger tax base."

As governor, Howlett said, he will make economic development a key part of his administration.

He has created an advisory committee headed by John Kennedy, a former state director of General Services, to assemble an economic development program. To keep it going, he will appoint a blue-ribbon task force, drawn from all segments of private enterprise, in the new administration.

"Illinois has great advantages," he said. "A central location, a fertile soil, the world's greatest transportation center, a skilled labor force, expert management, enormous underground coal reserves and plentiful energy resources."

He said Illinois can compete successfully by aggressive selling of its advantages and by showing it is a friend to business and industry.

Ability to manage money should be taught early

By DR. ROWENA LUTZ
SHE Consumer Information Director

No one is born with the ability to manage money. This ability is learned.

It takes quite a bit of experience to learn what money does, to learn to make satisfactory choices, and to learn to keep money available for emergency and future needs. These and other concepts about money should be taught early.

A child is quite young when he becomes aware of money. Impressions are given to him from television, newspapers, magazines, parents, other adults, and the children with whom he associates. The way a child feels about money inevitably influences his adult attitudes about it.

A child may be generous, selfish, an impulsive spender or very miserly. A child needs to learn that money is only one of the resources of living, along with time and energy. Wise money management involves the using of the money in order to buy things we need or want. It is a tool.

In view of the fact that money affects all our lives, it is important to develop realistic attitudes about it. Parents and other adults may need to spend time in helping a child develop good habits. If a child learns to manage small amounts of money, he is getting practice in using the basic principles of economics. Hopefully, he is developing, through practice, the ability to make choices and to live with the consequences of those choices. He needs help and guidance in developing his resourcefulness and confidence in money matters.

Some families believe the allowance system helps the child to learn to spend within the limits of a given amount. Still others believe in giving a child money only when he asks for something. The latter system does not allow the child to plan his spending or to save his own money.

When helping a child learn about spending money, some experiences in shopping, if necessary, give him the money to spend and let him select an item he likes that can be purchased for that amount. Allow the child to make the final decision, even if you think it is a poor choice.

Also, let him give the money to the salesperson. Shopping trips can be an excellent learning experience for the child even though a bit trying for adults. It might be wise to explain before leaving the house where the child will be making a purchase or merely accompanying an adult and not purchasing.

Children face the same problems adults do when managing money. They often want more things than they can afford to buy!

Bagworm hatch is early

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
Laward Garden Adviser

Bagworms hatched early this year and are off to a running start. Brownish areas on evergreen or a limb of your favorite tree is a suspicious sign.

Close inspection will reveal tiny cigar-shaped "packages" of leaves scattered on a few limbs or throughout a brownish area and each contain a baby bagworm.

Prompt spraying with Bacillus Thuringiensis, carbaryl or malathion will easily control the whole family. Bacillus Thuringiensis is bacteria that you suspend in water and spray on the foliage. When chewing insects, like bagworms, eat the contaminated foliage they become infected by the bacteria and soon die.

The bacteria is harmless to people. This same material is being widely used in gardens to control cabbage worms and tomato worms because there is no harmful residue.

Carbaryl and malathion are recognized as effective, short-lived pesticides for yard and garden use.

Poison ivy is easy to control when you can identify it among the maze of weeds and treat it with Amtritol-T or Silvex.

It is best to treat in late spring or early summer after poison ivy leaves are fully expanded. Use two tablespoons of Amtritol-T or Silvex in one gallon of water. Spot-treating will gradually wipe out poison ivy in wooded areas without a wholesale kill of wild flowers and ground-cover plants.

When poison ivy has grown up the trunk of trees, cut the hairy, root-like vine at the stump, then treat the new shoots as they appear on the stump. In wooded areas, you will need to make several forays at one-month intervals to locate and treat plants that escaped an earlier treatment.

Delays MRF performance for Demo convention

Harry Chapin had originally planned to be busy on the night of July 14 singing his songs and chatting with the audience at the Mississippi River Festival, held on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, but voters of New York State District Three had other ideas. Chapin's performance for that night has been moved to June 30 to accommodate the mandate of the voters on Long Island who have named Chapin one of their delegates to the Democratic National Convention in New York City, which takes place at the same time as his originally scheduled MRF date.

"I had the highest vote total of any of the delegates elected from the Third Congressional District of Long Island," Chapin said in a recent interview. "While pleased with that total, Chapin admits that his 'name status as an entertainer may have had something to do with it. Still, he points out, 'I've always been actively involved. I know people get bored,' he admitted with a chuckle, 'with hearing about entertainers who get involved in movements or politics. They get tired of hearing about Jane Fonda and

Joan Baez and Marlon Brando and the rest. But,' he emphasized, 'this country was started on the premise that we all get actively involved in the on-going business of government. And that's what I've done.'

Chapin has long been socially and politically active. In the past year, he performed 14 concerts for Ralph Nader, to help keep the Nader people adequately funded. And currently, Chapin is deeply committed to the World Hunger Year activities.

He notes simply that "there are 20 million malnourished Americans. I think that's an obscenity. A recent study showed that 20 to 25 per cent of all the dog food sold in New York City supermarkets was sold to old people who ate it themselves. That's just an obscenity in a country that could feed the world." Chapin is pledged to vote for Morris Udall in his first vote at the convention. But Udall wasn't his first choice.

"I originally was for Fred Harris," he said. "But when it became obvious that Harris wasn't realistically a candidate, I switched to Udall." But with the convention coming up shortly, Chapin says that "my second choice is still Harris, although I realize that isn't a very realistic position to take."

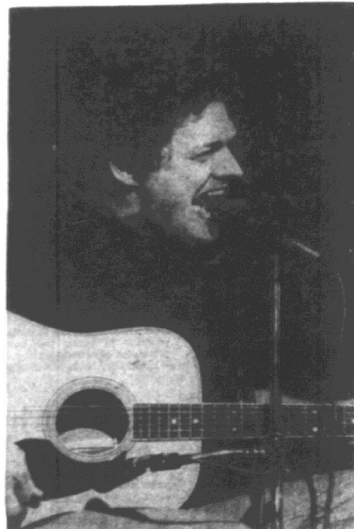

His own predictions call for Jimmy Carter to probably take the Democratic nomination, "but not on the first ballot." And what makes Chapin happy about the whole Democratic situation is "all the candidates are better than Reagan or Ford."

Chapin's activity, while it won't make him money as a concert date would, is something he feels strongly about. Political activity, and political change, is "what the whole idea of this society is about. This society was founded with the idea that we have constant change, constant revolution. It's a shame that our leaders are able to pervert the whole process."

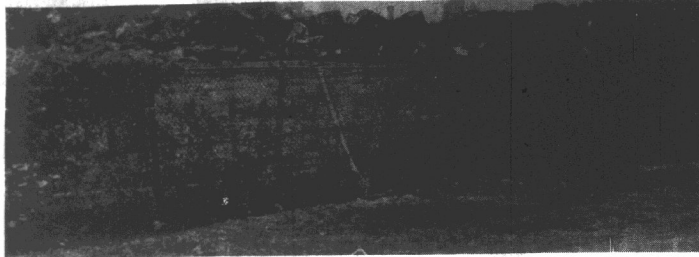

What is even worse, though, says Chapin, is "that people have this great native. They think that if we leave government alone, it will all work out all right. And that's not how things happen."

As an example, although he disagrees philosophically with the National Rifle Association, Chapin says, "they're good Americans. I don't like what they do, but I admire their efforts. That's what the American system is supposed to be all about. Their lobby does an excellent job of supporting their stands on gun control and gun legislation."

Chapin thinks of himself as "a radical, but one working within the political process." His music, as Chapin fans know, is often concerned with social issues, or more directly with personal difficulties that arise from our social and political climate. That music, of course, is indicative of Chapin's desire to see changes made. And those are changes that Harry Chapin is willing to work for.

REPLACEMENT PLANNED. Damaged fencing such as shown here on 23rd Street between August and Hall Avenues is to be replaced. City officials authorized a call for bids to repair or replace all damaged sections of the fencing that skirts the drainage ditch along 23rd Street and Nameoki Road. Street Department workers also are to begin dredging the ditch to remove brush and small trees.

(Press-Record Photo)

BATTERED FENCE along 23rd Street, skirting the drainage ditch that carries stormwater to Horseshoe Lake, will be replaced in damaged areas under action taken by the Granite City Council last week. A bid call based on specifications prepared by the street department was authorized. This view is at the end of August Avenue. A number of breaks along the 23rd Street and Nameoki Road sections of fencing will be repaired or replaced. Some of the damage was caused by autos hitting the fence.

General Steel to develop new trucks for rail cars

General Steel Industries, Inc., of St. Louis and the South African Inventions Development Corporation have signed an agreement covering the development of radial axle trucks for main line passenger cars, rapid transit and commuter cars, and other rail vehicles in North America.

Keith L. Jackson, a former Granite City, vice-president and general manager of the GSI Engineering Division of General Steel, said road tests of new high-stability, radial axle trucks conducted in South Africa on freight equipment indicate this new technology can provide improved running stability, and an extension of this capability to passenger vehicles offers promise for improving riding comfort at high speeds.

Jackson noted that there is great interest throughout the rail transportation industry today in developing technology to improve passenger comfort while reducing travel time.

The new concept was originated by Herbert Scheffel, mechanical development engineer for the South African Railways. Application of radial axle trucks to freight equipment in that country, Jackson explained, have resulted in a substantial reduction in wheel and rail wear. GSI Engineering believes the application of the concept to passenger equipment in this country could provide additional benefits in improved ride quality and lower noise levels, which may be of greater significance for passenger carrying vehicles than reduced wear.

A prime feature of the development is considered to be achievement for improved riding quality. Jackson explained that the conventional trucks in use today have two axles fixed in a position parallel to each other. When the car rounds a curve, the flanges on the wheels contact the rails to turn the truck and in tight curves the familiar squealing noise results.

In radial axle trucks, the two axles assume a radial position with respect to the track curvature rather than remaining parallel with each other. A special wheel tread profile in combination with suitable mechanical connections between the axles, enables the truck to negotiate curved track without flange guidance while improving running stability on straight track.

Freedom from flange contact and good running stability result in less wear, reduced noise, and better ride quality. GSI Engineering is a leading designer of suspension systems or trucks for all types of rail vehicles including rapid transit and commuter cars, main line passenger cars. Jackson said plans are being developed of prototype testing in this country of radial axle trucks for rail passenger vehicles based on the Scheffel principles.

Honor 2 teachers

For the second time in the seven-year history of the Great Teacher Award at SIUE, two faculty members share the honor.

At commencement exercises Friday night, Dickie Allen Spurgeon of Edwardsville, associate professor of English, and Billy J. Rogers, Golden Eagle, assistant professor of psychology, were recognized as the 1976 recipients.

At the June 19 meeting of the SIUE Alumni Association Board of Directors, each will receive a plaque and a $500 check.

Financed by contributions from alumni, the Great Teacher Award was established in 1970 by the SIUE Alumni Association to recognize excellence in classroom teaching. Research, administrative accomplishment or personality are not criteria for this award.

Spurgeon, first SIUE alumnus to receive the award, earned his bachelor of arts degree in English in 1961. He received his master of arts in that field at the Carbondale campus in 1962 and his doctor of philosophy degree at the University of Illinois in 1967.

Prior to joining the faculty at SIUE in 1971, Spurgeon had served as an instructor at the University of Illinois, assistant professor at the University of Maryland, and during the summer of 1969 as visiting lecturer at George Mason College.

At SIUE, Spurgeon is also associate editor of Papers on Language and Literature and president of the Faculty Organization for Collective Bargaining (FOCB). During his tenure at the local campus, he has served on a number of departmental committees, the University Senate, System Personnel Policies Task Force and the Affirmative Action Task Force.

Author of Tudor Translations of the Colloquies of Erasmus (1536-1548), Spurgeon is doing research for three books, John Foxe, Christopher Marlowe and Tudor Dialogues (edition for Scholars' Facsimiles and Reprints).

A 1963 graduate of SIUC, Rogers earned his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees at St. Louis University and joined the SIUE staff full time in 1969.

A registered clinical psychologist, he is also engaged part time in diagnostic assessment and psychotherapy in Alton.

Rogers' experience includes outpatient clients at the St. Louis University Clinic; serving in several capacities, including co-director of psychological services, at the Alton Mental Health Center; and as a consultant for several area nursing homes.

Author of four research papers, Rogers has conducted workshops for the Illinois Department of Mental Health.

Two more holidays for SIU employes

Employees of Southern Illinois University will receive two additional holidays annually as a result of state legislation and amendatory action Thursday by the SIU Board of Trustees, bringing SIU policies into conformity with the new state law.

The law, which becomes effective July 1, provides for six designated holidays and five "floating" holidays to be designated by the University presidents. The holidays established by SIU policy are: New Year's Day, Memorial Day (as determined by the law of the State of Illinois), Independence Day, Labor Day (first Monday in September), Thanksgiving Day (fourth Thursday in November), Christmas Day, and five holidays to be designated before July 1 of each year.

Formerly, SIU policy called for one holiday to be designated in addition to the established holidays, which included Washington's Day and the day after Thanksgiving.

The resolution approved by the board also reflects a provision of the new law regarding holiday pay for craft and trade employees.

Diverse nationalities here devoted to America's liberty, democracy

By MRS. TOMEA KIRCHOFF

President of the Macedonian-Bulgarian Ladies Aid Society and Member of the Ethnic Committee of the Granite City Bicentennial Commission. "We, the people, begin our Constitution. America is really a group of people."

Most nations are formed around a single people, but America is based on a dream of freedom and well-being that was embraced by men and women of many tongues and traditions.

Where did we come from? What led us to these shores? Was it courage or fear? Was it hope or despair?

What kept us together despite our differences through revolution and civil war? Depression and world war? We ask — what keeps us together now? There are many ways to answer this question, but a single word, patriotism, can say it all. In this Bicentennial year, there is a panorama of American patriotism, illustrating high moments in American history, high thoughts, high emotions, high hopes.

America has opened her arms to many peoples and so she has to us. The Macedonian-Bulgarian Ladies Aid Society, with a deep sense of loyalty and devotion, proudly salutes America in her 200th year.

Our tribute to her is one of gratitude for the countless opportunities and freedom she bestows on all people, and so we reflect on years past.

Although the history of the Macedonian-Bulgarian people in America does not extend back to the descendants of the revolution and the early settlers or "old" immigrants (northeast Europeans who came chiefly between 1820 and 1880), our immigration is considered part of the "new" immigrants, who were among the southeast Europeans who came here after 1880.

The motives for immigration have been a mixture of yearnings — for escape from oppression, for freedom, for riches, for change, for tranquility and for something not definable in words.

Our immigrants began to arrive in the early 1900s and joined the American immigration of millions of enterprising, courageous folk — most of them humble and nearly all of them unknown by name to history.

Ours joined the Welsh, the English, the German, Italian, Russian, Hungarian and Armenian — all from a variety of backgrounds but nonetheless resembling each other in willingness to look beyond the horizon and seek a new life.

The years 1904-1906 were the peak years of Macedonian-Bulgarian immigration when our people fled from a failed attempt to overthrow the Turkish yoke which ruled over their land.

The reasons for leaving were both political and economical. Initially, the men came unaccompanied by their families. The first-comers established themselves and then they were joined by their wives and children.

The first settlement was in the Granite City and Madison area. The largely poor, unskilled laborers found employment in the steel mills and were considered to be extremely hardworking and dependable men.

Periodically, some left for the Northwestern states to work on the railroads which were being built toward the Pacific.

These industrious, staunchly conservative, humble settlers struggled to establish themselves a foothold in a new society.

They shall be remembered for their efforts, which contributed to the enormous industrial expansion of the early 20th Century.

While some left Granite City and Madison for other parts of the country, those who remained accepted a new life and became assimilated into the American culture without sacrificing their early customs and traditions.

Because immigrants were inclined to live close to their own people and close to their employment, ethnic ghettos appeared and preserved the culture, religion and traditions brought from another land.

The "new" immigrant group then established its own churches and newspapers, as well as fraternal and benevolent organizations.

The first Bulgarian Eastern Orthodox Church in America was built in Granite City — in Lincoln Place — in 1907.

This lovely, small church was named Saints Kiril and Method and was hand-built by the local parishioners. The church still stands and is a place of worship for the Armenian congregation.

The Holy Trinity Bulgarian Eastern Orthodox Church in Madison was the third church to be built in the United States and was built in the year 1910.

By 1907, there were 5,000 Macedonian and Bulgarian immigrants in Granite City and Madison.

Many social, cultural and political organizations emerged. Among the oldest was the Bulgarian Ladies of America, started 70 years ago. In addition, there was Podkrepa, and later the Macedonian-Bulgarian Ladies Aid Society, Macedonian Patriotic Organization and others.

The Bulgarian newspaper "Naroden Glas" was in existence as early as 1907 and served the people in this community as well as having a circulation in other states.

Not all our immigrants were working in industry. A few distinguished themselves as early as 1903 in the fields of banking, medicine, teaching and business.

Many of our immigrants have made many contributions to the community and have served as leaders in Granite City and Madison. They became well known throughout the state of Illinois.

We are proud to say that our second-generation Macedonian and Bulgarian Americans have become bankers, doctors, lawyers, judges, engineers, businessmen and teachers. Through their professions and way of life, they will make a sound and responsible impact on American culture.

To some observers there may be an element of contradiction in the fact that immigrants assert their American patriotism as members of separate groups.

But this contradiction is only superficial. When Macedonian-Americans observe Ellen Den, when Polish Americans observe Pulaski Day, when Irish Americans parade in honor of St. Patrick, and when Americans of Greek, Mexican or Armenian origin celebrate old world independence days, they are merely seeking to make clear their identity in the larger American community.

And, even by doing so, they are merely seeking to make clear their identity in the larger American community. And, even by doing so, they are merely seeking to make clear their identity in the larger American community.

And, even by doing so, they are merely seeking to make clear their identity in the larger American community. And, even by doing so, they are merely seeking to make clear their identity in the larger American community.

And, even by doing so, they are merely seeking to make clear their identity in the larger American community. And, even by doing so, they are merely seeking to make clear their identity in the larger American community.

And, even by doing so, they are merely seeking to make clear their identity in the larger American community. And, even by doing so, they are merely seeking to make clear their identity in the larger American community.

To the founding fathers, a pluribus unum meant fusing 13 separate states into a single political unit; to the mid-20th Century American, it also denotes the unity that has developed from the mingling of peoples diverse in origin but sharing a common devotion to liberty, democracy and tolerance.

As Israel Zangwill, so eloquently stated years ago,

"America is God's crucible, the great melting pot..."

It is with this thought that these reflections of our Macedonian-Bulgarian-American past in this Quad-City area were presented — with the hope that future generations can remember the past with pride and with understanding, and use it as a basis upon which to build a better tomorrow for all people.

The St. Louis Stars will hold a four-day soccer instructional camp this summer for Illinois youth aged 8-18. This year's camp will be held at St. Elizabeth School on Pontoon Road in Granite City, beginning Monday, July 19.

In order to provide the best soccer training available, the Stars will limit enrollment to a maximum of 120 children.

The camp will draw youth from Alton, Wood River, Collinsville, Belleville, Columbia and the Quad-Cities.

The camp director is Stars Head Coach John Sewell. He has a U.S. Soccer Football Association "A" coaching badge, the highest level of coaching proficiency that the USSF awards.

The other camp instructors are Stars roster members Roger Verdt, Denny Vaninger, Al Trost, Joey Clarke, Bob O'Leary, Keith Fear and Len "James" Bond.

Vaninger, Trost and Clarke were all previous college all-Americans. Fear, Bond and Verdt all have top-flight soccer experience, developing their skills in England.

The cost of the four-day camp is $40. Tuition includes uniforms, shorts, socks and shoes.

structural materials, Stars premiums and drinks. Campers must provide their own lunches, and 30 minutes will be allowed for lunch each day.

The agenda for each camp will be first-day, fundamentals and scrimmaging; second day, positional play; third day, team tactics; and fourth day, scrimmages under game conditions.

The camp will begin each day at 9 a.m. and conclude at 2:30 p.m.

To sign up for the camp, parents may call the Stars office, 1 (314) 726-7777.

Post 113 wins with ease, and with rally

The Legionnaires collected 12 hits Friday in supporting pitcher Paul Evans, who held Mascoutah to three hits. The visitors garnered three runs in the first and one in the second.

Post 113 scored three runs in the second as Jeff Scarborough singled, Paul Evans singled, Eldon Warfield singled, Mike Clark reached on an error. Randy Smith drew a walk and Tom Henrich got a hit.

A hit by Smith, a walk to Keith Champion and a single by Paul Marshall provided Post 113 with a tying run in the fourth.

A walk to Evans and singles by Warfield, Smith and Henrich gave Tri-City Legion a 6-4 lead in the fifth.

In the sixth, Johnny Pritchard tripled, Scarborough reached on an error, Evans singled, and Henrich scored on a wild pitch and another on a sacrifice fly. Against East St. Louis, Post 113 opened with Mushill reaching on an error and Pritchard hitting a home run. Henrich tripled in the fourth inning and scored on a wild pitch, leaving Tri-City trailing by 4-3. East St. Louis had scored twice each in the third and fourth innings.

Post 113 went ahead in the fifth with four runs. Henrich reached on an error, Kirk Champion singled, Mushill reached on an error, Pritchard tripled and Warfield singled. The visitors scored lone runs in the fifth and sixth innings.

Braves' bats boom for 12-2, 22-1 conquests

The Granite City Braves baseball nine travels to Godfrey Wednesday for a 6 p.m. non-league contest, with a 4-2 record after winning both ends of a twoball yesterday at Scott Air Force Base, 12-2 and 22-1.

The Braves, a member of the Central Illinois Traveling League, tallied three runs in the opening inning on hits by Tom Henrich, Danny Schaus, Dave Klarich and Tom Mahl.

Four Granite City runners scored in the second on a double by Henrich, singles by Dan Fecht, Schaus and Bryan Meehan and a home run by Vic Griffin. Griffin was the winning pitcher.

Mahl took the win in the second contest, allowing the Scott Field team only three hits while the Granite City club collected 14.

Hits by Henrich, Schaus, Elliott, Manogian and Meehan provided the Braves with six first-inning runs. Following a third-inning run by Scott, the Braves sent 20 batters to the plate in their half of that frame for 16 runs.

Collecting hits in the third were Henrich (2), Klarich, Elliott, Meehan (2), Manogian and Claude Othmanian. John Drevokich drew a walk. Granite City runners stole 11 bases in the third inning and reached base on two errors.

By a 21-5 vote today, the Madison County Board approved installation of sanitary sewers in Area One (Chouteau, Venice and Nameoki Townships).

Votes were scheduled to follow on Area Two (State Park Place) and Area Three (Eagle Park, Cloverleaf and East Madison).

HOUSE RANSACKED
Andrew Marczak, 25 Lee Ave., Madison, reported at 12:30 a.m. Sunday that he and his wife returned home to find the front door of their house pried open and the entire place ransacked. A bank with an undetermined amount of money, jewelry, wedding rings and tapes valued at over $400 were missing, Marczak said.

Distortions on sewer issue being circulated

Wild distortions are being circulated by sanitary sewer opponents in an apparent desperation effort to block sewers proposed in Area One (Nameoki, Venice and Chouteau Townships), county officials said during the weekend.

False allegations also are being given about costs, about various officials and about planned bidding procedures, it was asserted.

Chouteau Supervisor Walter Sparks said, that one Chouteau man is "telling people that signing his petition is not a vote against sewers, but only a vote against the method of paying for them.

"But 51 per cent signatures would kill the sewers. There is no method we can come up with, that will finance the sewers more cheaply. And there is no time left to argue the point and still save the multi-million-dollar grant."

"In my opinion, a signature on one of these petitions is a vote to kill the sewers," Sparks asserted.

He added that the apparent alternate proposal of some petition circulators involves revenue bond payments that would be much costlier to local residents than the currently proposed cost.

Well, the old fellow made it through another winter. It's not getting any easier for him.

Maybe he works harder than he has to! Been reading a lot about insulation lately... the kids and I could insulate the attic ourselves some weekend. That would cut the load on the furnace. And the air conditioner too.

Wonder if there's a mandatory retirement age for furnaces. Whatever it is, ours must be close to it. Maybe this is the time for something new in heating. Hear a lot of people talking about electric heat.

Change in social security status should be reported

By WILLIAM KEHR
Social Security
District Manager

East St. Louis District
People who are 65 or over, or blind or disabled, get supplemental security payments based on financial need. Because almost any change in a person's living conditions may affect the amount of financial help he or she needs and, therefore, eligibility for monthly payments or the amount of the payment, changes in a person's living conditions should be reported as soon as they take place.

Overpayments can result when the person fails to notify social security about changes that should be reported. When several months are involved, the amount of an overpayment may be sizable.

Since the law requires the Social Security Administration to recover the overpayment, the amount of the overpayment generally is withheld from future checks and results in a tremendous hardship for most people.

Overpayments and their recovery can generally be avoided if a person who gets SSI payments reports the required changes to SSA as soon as possible. Everyone who applies for SSI payments is told about the items to be reported and is given a leaflet summarizing the reporting instructions.

In addition, when the person gets the notice that his or her claim has been approved, how much the check will be, and when it will start, a booklet is enclosed that again details the things that should be reported. When the booklet is received, it's a good idea to look it over carefully as a reminder of that should be reported. Then, put the booklet away in a safe place and refer to it when in doubt about what should be reported.

This is especially important because failure to report not only causes overpayments but in some situations could result in an underpayment. People who have lost the booklet originally received or who don't recall getting a booklet, may call, write or visit any social security office and ask for another booklet. Examples of the more common changes in circumstances that should be reported are:

You move or change your mailing address; you begin living in or move from another person's household; you are confined in or released from a hospital, skilled nursing facility, intermediate care facility, nursing home, or public institution; you plan to go outside the United States for 30 or more days; you and your husband or wife begin living apart or resume living together; you marry or your marriage ends; your income increases or decreases; you buy or sell real estate or personal property; you are getting payments because you're disabled or blind and your condition improves or you go back to work; you are under age 22 and you stop or start attending school regularly.

Reports can be made to your social security office by phone, writing, or in person. An early report allows the office to make any necessary adjustments in your payments without delay.

Parading here, elsewhere on nation's Bicentennial weekend

Parades and pageants, prayers and picnics, bell-ringing, candle lighting and fireworks will take place in the nation's third century over Independence Weekend 1976.

The Quad-City U.S. Bicentennial parade is set for 11 a.m. July 3 from Granite City through Madison to Venice.

Across the nation and around the world, people will be taken to note this special moment in the history of the world's oldest continuously existing republic.

"To Americans, it means that the blueprint of the nation—the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution and the Bill of Rights—still serve them well. To foreigners, it means that the 200-year-old experiment in self-government continues to stand as a beacon of freedom."

That is the opinion of John W. Warner, administrator of the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration (ARBA), the federal agency established to stimulate and encourage participation in the Bicentennial.

In Warner's view, the grassroots celebration of the Bicentennial in every respect befits the dignity and the greatness of this nation.

In its annual report to the Congress, the ARBA has outlined a vast mosaic of citizen participation in activities from coast to coast in each of the 50 states, the territories, Puerto Rico and the nation's capital.

Warner said Congress "that the Bicentennial is neither a boom nor a bust, but reflects the will and the determination of the American people to honor their past, share their present and build an even greater America with an improved quality of life for all as we enter the third century."

The report notes that, while the month of the celebration will be this Fourth of July weekend, the official Bicentennial commemoration will continue through the end of the calendar year.

The official time frame for the Bicentennial was set by Congress when it directed the ARBA to maintain a calendar of regular events from March 1975 through December 1976.

Public Law 95-179 created the ARBA in December 1975 to coordinate the nation's Bicentennial celebration, which was named in 1964 to explore ways in which the nation might best celebrate its 200th anniversary. Congress agreed that it should be nationwide in scope rather than a single exposition.

It has been ARBA's job to encourage and stimulate participation by citizens throughout the nation. Much of this effort was done in cooperation with State Bicentennial commissions which exist in all 50 states, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and the Territories of Guam, American Samoa and the Virgin Islands.

Warner, as national coordinator of the Bicentennial, set the tone for the commemoration when he said on taking office in April 1975: "The success of the commemoration of the nation's first two centuries will be judged on the number of participants, not the number of spectators."

With that philosophy, the ARBA sponsored a variety of programs offering national Bicentennial recognition as a means of encouraging community and organization involvement in the commemoration.

One of the most successful is the Bicentennial Communities program. Open to towns, villages, cities, counties and native American groups, the program has provided official recognition to the Bicentennial efforts of 11,738 communities across the land. The final task shows that over 40 per cent of the people live in a recognized community.

To be recognized, a community had to form a committee representative of its citizens, develop plans and programs for commemorating the Bicentennial and submit them through state commissions to the ARBA. At least one of the planned activities had to have lasting value past 1976.

Similar programs for colleges and universities and for business and industry were set up, and 929 campuses and 600 military activities have been recognized.

To further stimulate active participation in the commemoration, the ARBA formed alliances for organizations and groups, pledging to encourage individual members and employees to get involved. The Bicentennial Alliances of the number of member organizations are: 84 hospitals, 16 ethnic racial, 41 sports and business, 29.

The ARBA granted national recognition to selected major Bicentennial projects and encouraged public awareness of those events which are of regional, national or international significance.

Recognized major activities range from the Snowball children's theater in New York to sculptures in Nebraska. Bicentennial 80 to operation Salt and the Bicentennial Wagon Train Pilgrimage to Pennsylvania. As of June 29, projects had been recognized under this program.

The national Bicentennial symbol is derived from the stars, stripes and colors of the United States flag. It takes the form of a five-pointed star surrounded by continuous red, white and blue stripes, which form a second star. The words "American Revolution Bicentennial 1776-1976" circle the symbol.

Nearly all Bicentennial programs be they national, state or local, fall within three thematic areas: Heritage, 26. A nationwide summation to recall our heritage, to place it in its historical perspective, and to focus on the original value and unfolding panorama of our nation's history.

Festival USA. A nationwide opportunity to share with fellow Americans and the people of the world the traditions, the culture, the hospitality and the character of the United States and its people.

Heritage USA. A nationwide challenge to every American, acting individually or in groups, to select and act upon goals to help make America the more perfect nation, and to improve the quality of life for the Third Century.

On the international scene, the ARBA has helped coordinate the efforts of over 90 nations, participating in America's 200th anniversary celebration. Included in this effort is official recognition for over 100 overseas Bicentennial events.

Federal activities range from the improvement of historical national parks and shrines to armed forces Bicentennial bands and caravans.

Its last important function will be to insure that the Bicentennial accomplishment by citizens of the nation are fully and completely archived for future generations.

In Warner's opinion, "Their collective efforts represent the most massive volunteer effort in peacetime America. This milestone in our history should set an example for all who follow."

THE SCHERMER BULLETIN

It's been several weeks since we had a bulletin. First the holiday (Decoration Day) ad used up all the space and then Avery left town with the Ainsel Oriental Band so that killed another column.

Incidentally, if you missed it, the Oriental Band did win first place in Cincinnati and no one was prouder than the Director, Avery.

Herman says that we ought to write about our Beef program. All of our beef items are on sale every day. We may run some super prices on a few items, but day in and day out our regular prices mean savings on every cut. Just come in and browse along our service meat case and see for yourself.

We're still selling cooked fish at the old price. We bought plenty when the price was low. All fish has gone up but we're still selling cooked fish at 10¢ for $1.00. In this hot weather it's a great item. Just heat and serve; no cooking required.

Thorngate hosts guest day

Authentic antique ice cream tables, matching heart back chairs and lyre back wire chairs provided the nostalgic aura of an old fashioned ice cream parlor for the annual guest day celebration of Thorngate

Garden Club held at Nameoki United Presbyterian Church. In keeping with the theme members of the host club wore long gingham pinafore aprons and served as waitresses taking orders for banana splits, ice cream sundaes with a variety of toppings including fresh black raspberries.

Tables for four were decorated with white cloths centered with four yellow coffee mugs filled with garden flowers making a large bouquet. The mugs were later given as favors.

Mrs. Helen Polley was general chairman of the event and Mrs. June Lux served as program chairman. Miss Jean Bethel acted as the guest book as guests arrived from all the local garden clubs and the Fair Oaks Junior Garden Club.

A guest of the program chairman, Mrs. Marie Widows, played the piano and exhibited sheet music from 1910 including "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

Charles Delp played the violin for a sing-a-long and during the afternoon strolled among the tables playing many old melodies of past years.

Mrs. Clara Schillinger club president introduced the guests and presented her granddaughter Miss Carol Kinney who read her prize winning essay, "What the Liberty Bell Means To Me."

At the recipient of the top award in the area wide competition resides in Granite City, a brass liberty bell valued at $4,500 was presented to the city by the contest sponsors, Miss Kinney announced.

Mrs. Lillian Delp led the members and guests in dancing the Virginia reel and the Charleston dance was performed by Mrs. Patricia Polley. Prizes for the day were given to Mrs. Wanda Herman, Mrs. Judy Donley and Mrs. Marie Eads.

Other guests attending were Mesdames Elsie Wadlow, Shirley DeCourcy, Florence Rapp, Jane White, Carolyn Stearns, Clara Winter, Pauline Baker, Bette Roa, Mabel Long, Tennie Hormann, Lori Hintz, Claudia Lentz, Nettie Miner, Tomasa Kirchoff, June Cochran, Mary Kristian, Irene Hayes, Alma Irwin, Genevieve McComis, Nellie Harshbarger, Irma Schillinger, Pearl Young, Enid Bolin, Betty King.

Misses Helen Scarritt, Jill Donley, Sharon and Beth Blankenship, June Markham, Bradley Beach and Joel Donley.

Optimist Founders Day on Thursday

The Granite City Optimist Club will celebrate Founders Day at its meeting Thursday noon in the YMCA.

A special effort is being made for all members of the club during the first five years to be at the noon meeting as guests of the club even though they no longer are active members.

In February 1929, members of the North St. Louis, Downtown St. Louis, East St. Louis and Belleville Optimist clubs contacted John F. A. M. Wilson and Carl Lomas about organizing a Granite City Optimist Club.

After a few weeks of meetings, the local club was chartered in April 1929 and a Charter Night was held in the Jefferson Hotel in St. Louis. The first Club President was Carl Lomas.

Charles Lybarger, Sam Pershall Sr. and Arthur Roseman are the only three of the 26 charter members still living.

An Opti-Mrs. Club was organized in 1937 and still is going strong with 38 members. The club in 1939 helped organize a Community Chest (United Way) for the area.

The GC Optimists have had two members elected District Governors, Arthur Roseman 1963-64 and G. H. Sternberg 1967-68.

Sternberg went even further in the ranks of Optimist and brought international recognition to the club and the area when he was elected president of Optimist International in 1968.

Members who joined during the first year of the club's history and still are active include Ted Aufferdeide, Wallace Wyman and Roseman.

Over the years, the Optimist members have made many notable civic contributions including: sponsoring Boy Scouts, oratorical contests, YMCA youth activities, boys' baseball, bicycle safety programs, helped numerous underprivileged youth and adults in the community.

The purposes of Optimist are to develop Optimism as a philosophy of life, to promote an active interest in good government and civic affairs, to inspire respect for law, to promote patriotism and work for international accord and friendship among all people, to aid and encourage the development of youth in the belief that giving of one's self in service to others will advance the well-being of man, the community and the world.

Cancer Bike-A-Thon set June 27 in GC

Joseph Lucido, Granite City Crusade chairman for the American Cancer Society, is announcing the second annual Bike-A-Thon will be held Sunday, June 27, in the local community.

Last year's ride netted the Cancer Society $2,000. Assisting Lucido in arranging the event are Mrs. Harriet Horn, Mr. and Mrs. Earl French, Ron Luebber and Mrs. Lily Chabouda.

The funds realized from events such as the Bike-A-Thon and the Rock Rose Track-A-Thon on June 5 enable the American Cancer Society to continue its work of service to cancer patients, research, public and professional education and rehabilitation. The Granite City Bike-A-Thon will start officially at 1 p.m. June 27. Registration will get under way at noon and riders may begin anytime after 1 p.m. and ride until 5 p.m.

Parents and children are being encouraged to take part in the "fun affair," according to Lucido. Sponsor sheets will be available at many locations in the Granite City area, to be announced later. Entrants may sign up as many sponsors as possible, the chairman said.

Two 10-speed bicycles will be presented to the man or boy and woman or girl who collect the most donations from sponsors, Lucido announced. The gifts will be awarded 30 days after the ride.

At the beginning of the ride each rider will receive a kit containing a map of the route, a checkpoint slip, a Bike-A-Thon patch for shirt or jacket and a Rules of the Road book.

The course laid out is the same as last year and is four miles long. Starting point is Niedringhaus School. From there, the riders proceed south on State Street to 18th Street, west to Benton Street, north on Benton to 27th Street Parkway to State Street, north on State and back to the starting point.

Lucido suggested the event be a "family day." Parents could pack a picnic lunch and spend the afternoon at Wilson Park while the children "Ride for Cancer," he said. Further details about the project may be obtained by calling Earl French, at 876-6891, or the American Cancer Society office in Alton, at 1-465-7821.

MR. WIZARD Roger C. Hill (right), associate professor of physics at SIUE, shows student Dave Hinds of Granite City with an experiment he uses in his physics of music class. Hill is demonstrating how sound travels on a plate by putting sand on the plate and then running a violin bow along its side to produce sounds. By placing his fingers at different places on the side of the plate, he can produce different sand patterns. Hinds, a student worker in the physics department, is a sophomore majoring in biology.

Howlett endorses Carter

Michael J. Howlett, Democratic candidate for Governor, last week endorsed Jimmy Carter to head the Democratic ticket as candidate for President.

"Carter is a moral leader as well as a political leader," said Howlett. "He is the man who can best unite the party for victory in November. Then lead the American people to overcome the challenges of our society."

"He made an excellent record as governor of Georgia."

"He reorganized the state government, made it efficient, reduced 300 agencies to 22 and saved the taxpayers $50 million a year."

"He stands for the principles of the Democratic party. In his inaugural address as governor, he said no one should ever be deprived of opportunity for a job, an education or simple justice because he is poor, rural, black or not influential."

"He has been successful as a farmer, a businessman, a nuclear scientist, a teacher and a planner as well as a governor. He has served in the navy and helped develop the first atomic submarine."

"He has been running for the Presidential nomination since December 1974. He has gone to the people, asked them to measure him, has stood the test and proved to them he is worthy of their support."

"As national chairman for the Democratic party in the 1974 elections, Carter proved his organizing ability. In hundreds of Senate House and gubernatorial races, he and his staff were the most effective team in our party's history."

"He has proved himself an effective advocate of environmental protection, of full citizenship for 18-year-olds, of prison reform, of the mentally ill and retarded."

"He is a genuine innovator. He does more than talk about what should be done. He gets things done."

"Last September 16, Howlett was host at a breakfast to introduce Carter to downstate Democratic leaders and the press in the St. Nicholas Hotel, Springfield."

"He told the assembled state House and Senate leaders and county chairmen at the time that he would enter primaries in all the states that have them."

"He discussed his position on a long series of issues, and summed up, 'I only want one thing, the same thing that you want — just to have our own government that we love to be as good and honest and decent and truthful and fair and competent as the American people.'"

"The successful completion of Step One, the planning phase, will make Glen Carbon eligible to receive further funding for the development and construction of the wastewater treatment project. Rep. On dean's list

Thomas Black, a University of Dubuque sophomore, was named to the Dean's List for the spring semester. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Black of 2740 Sunset Drive, Granite City.

In all, 213 students were named to the Dean's List, where students must maintain a semester grade point average of 3.2 on a 4.0 scale, according to John Burkhorn, academic dean.

"These students are leaders in both the academic and extra-curricular aspects of our school and they richly deserve this honor," he said.

The University of Dubuque consists of a four-year college of liberal arts and a three-year theological seminary. Located in Dubuque, Iowa, the University offers over 35 areas of study and eight degree-granting programs.

Students aid ill teenager

Raising money for a worthy cause was what students from four student organizations at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville did during the 1976 celebration of Springfield, traditional spring event.

The students raised money for Dana Diebert, a 16-year-old from Highland suffering from leukemia. In order to preserve his life, Diebert was sent to Seattle, Wash., for bone marrow transplants.

Medical expenses for the family have exceeded $30,000. To help, the citizens of Highland started a fund to assist in the fight against the disease.

SIUE Acting President Andrew J. Kochman appealed to university students, faculty and staff for contributions to the Dana Diebert Fund. Students of the Major Events Council, Fraternity-Sorority Conference, Community Involvement Project and Student Government assisted.

You win the silver cup for saving at Illini.

Now, more than ever, you're a real winner for saving at Illini. To celebrate the opening of our new Carlinville office we're offering a beautiful, silver-plate goblet free when you open or add to an account with $50 or more at any Illini office. Your choice of a cordial, wine or champagne/goblet.

Then you can build a silver-plate goblet set just by depositing additional amounts of $25 or more and purchasing goblets at special low prices. These are fine quality goblets with heavy base and stem, a dazzling lustre outside and satin finish inside. You'll be proud to add them to your table setting.

There's a limit of one free goblet per household—sorry, not mallable. Stop by any Illini office and get the cup that proves you're a winner.
